

OneWorld Now! China Program: EDUCATIONAL EQUITY IN URBAN CHINA

2 weeks – June 23rd to July 5, 2018*

* subject to slight variations due to flight availability

About the Program

Live, work, and study alongside Chinese peers at the Beijing-Changping New Oriental Foreign Languages School. In teams, craft and deliver lessons to elementary students at an under-resourced school for migrant children. Spend time at home with your classmates. Explore the capital city with your host family while experiencing local customs and daily routines. Share your experiences comparing equity in urban education through a culminating project and farewell party.

LEADERSHIP

- Work in teams to plan lessons for youth about the diversity of American culture
- Think critically about educational equity in Beijing

SERVICE

- Participate in over 30 hours of community service at an under-resourced school
- Receive a Certificate of International Community Service upon completion

CULTURAL EXPLORATION

- Experience dorm and home life with Chinese peers
- Explore Beijing's biggest sites, such as Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden City, and the Badaling Great Wall
- Practice your Mandarin skills

About OneWorld Now!: OneWorld Now! has over 15 years of experience teaching world languages, facilitating youth leadership development, and organizing education abroad opportunities for high school students.
